

From Page to Stage: A workshop on performing your poetry

Presented by Faith Vicinanza

Saturday, March 29

Unitarian Universalist Society

20 Forest Street, Stamford

11 am to 3:30 pm

Free!
No fee to attend.
Reservations are not required, but space is limited.

Visit www.stamfordwrites.org or call 203-348-0708 to sign up especially for one-on-one coaching!

11:00 to 1:00
Workshop

Poet Faith Vicinanza will present a two hour workshop on the art of presenting your work, be it poetry or prose, in an engaging manner. Learn some simple rules for taking your work to a small audience, an open mike, or a large audience.

1:00 to 1:30 Lunch Break

Brown bag or purchase in town; light refreshments will be provided.

Sign up for a one-on-one coaching time slot as allotted by the sponsors. Poets can ask Ms. Vicinanza questions about getting published, performance, or a one-on-one critique of a poem. Each poet is encouraged to bring a poem up to three minutes reading time. There is a learning opportunity for those participating in the presentation workshop from watching others getting coached on performance skills, but consider the opportunity to get your own work choreographed during the workshop and bring a poem. Or submit your poems ahead of time by mailing by March 21 to PoemAlley c/o UUSIS, 20 Forest Street, Stamford CT 06901 or email workshop@stamfordwrites.org.

1:30 to 3:30
One on One Coaching

Faith Vicinanza
is a published poet, photographer, workshop facilitator, visiting artist in grade schools and on college campuses. She is currently working on a memoir along with her fourth and fifth collections of poetry.